

President Dallas Co Aggie Moms <dcampres@gmail.com>

Texas A&M Aggie Classics Fundraising opportunity

Sara Pieprzica <sarapie2018@tamu.edu>
To: dcampres@gmail.com

23 March 2016 at 15:28

Howdy!

My name is Sara Pieprzica and I am a member of the service committee for a brand new women's organization at Texas A&M called Aggie Classics. Our philanthropy is called Rescue Pink in India, and we are holding our very first philanthropy event on April 3rd. We are raising money to help them end female infanticide and give these girls hope for the future. The event we are holding is a co-ed volleyball tournament and to help defray the costs of the event we were hoping your establishment would like to help sponsor our t-shirts or donate prizes. By making a monetary donation and sponsoring our event we will put your information on the back of the t-shirts. Here are the event details:

-Date: April 3, 2016 from 11-3 at the PEAP building

-Event: Co-ed volleyball tournament consisting of teams of 6-8, registration is $40 per team

-Money raised: Will go to Rescue Pink <http://www.rescuepink.org>

-People attending: Rough estimate 300 (64 members from Aggie Classics)

-Sponsorship: We are doing a tier system, so the companies who donate a larger amount will get a larger logo on the back of the t-shirt

Small - $0-$100

Medium- $101-$300

Large- $301+

If you are unable to make a monetary donation we would still greatly appreciate any type of prize that you can offer.

Thank you so much for your time and consideration. I as well as Aggie Classics appreciate any donation that is given. Looking forward to hearing from you soon!

Sara Pieprzica

Aggie Classics Service | '18